INTERIOR OF THE PALACE BUILDINGWhen Governor Peary returns from his vacation he will scarcely recognize the interior of the capitol building, for it is now undergoing extensive renovating, and ere the chief executive's homecoming the hallways and staircase on the first and second floors will have been retinted, revarnished and probably present an entirely different hue. The offices of the land commissioner, on the basement floor, and the attorney general on the second floor, also will have repaired walls and ceilings and new coats of paint.Just what the color motif is to be, is not announced. That is known only to the decorators, who have been given the responsibility of deciding the important question and limited to such colors as may have a mild, soothing but not somber effect.The renovation is made under a special appropriation of $10,000 for that purpose, and most of that sum will be used in making the improvements. One of the changes in the basement is the removal of the water resource branch of the geological survey department from its offices on that floor to new headquarters in the Kapiolani building. The waterworks branch of the department of public works is to be removed to the rooms just vacated.Clothes cleaned and pressed. Aba-

LOWER CALIFORNIAOn June 1 the pearl-fishing concession held by the Mangara Exploration Limited of London was canceled by the Mexican Government; the company receiving for its equipment, consisting of boats, diving suits, air pumps, and other paraphernalia 300, 000 pesos; or about $150,000 gold. writes Consul Lucien Sullivan from La Paz, Mexico.Under date of July 14, 1912, notices were posted by the inspector of fisheries that the register is now open for the inscription of the names of persons desiring to take out licenses to dive for pearl-oysters.It will now be possible for the pearl buyers of American houses to secure some of the choice pearls taken from these waters. The beautiful pink, sea green, bronze and blue pearls, it is believed, are not found in other parts of the world. While it is true that many pearls are secured from the mosses found in the Mississippi and some other rivers in the United States, the fresh-water pearl does not have the luster of pearls obtained from salt-water pearl oysters.The first boats will be allowed to go out about September 1, and the first zone to be fished will be that along the west coast of the mainland south of Acapulco. The boats with their equipment are to be sold at auction by the Government in lots to the highest bidder.Bringing oil from Port San Luis
